

HERE'S the POINT

By SPENCE HELD

When I heard about that train crash Sunday night, I was thankful indeed that I didn't have to cover it for a daily newspaper.

I've seen enough auto and streetcar accidents and plane crashes to last me the rest of my life; I've seen no train wrecks and don't want to see any.

That was the first serious train wreck that I can remember in Southern California—and I've lived here since 1908.

Les Dodds, Evening Tribune photographer, who went to the scene Sunday night, said later that it was the most tragic sight he had ever seen. His reactions included a fear that if he looked at the bodies he would find someone he knew.

I remember feeling that way myself at accidents in downtown San Diego. . . . Most of the adult newspapermen I've known didn't like to go to the scenes of tragedies—they went because they had to and for no other reason.

I'm afraid I have no patience with the thousands of morbidly curious Los Angeles residents who jammed their cars into the train wreck area Sunday night, hindering rescue work and stalling ambulances carrying the injured to hospitals.

As this is written, the death toll from the train accident stands at 29. . . . Don't forget that more than 3000 persons were killed in highway traffic accidents in California last year, including 177 in San Diego County.

The auto is our biggest killer—it's a deadly weapon in the hands of careless and/or drunken drivers and something ought to be done about it besides putting pieces in the papers.

O.K., what? Well, too many people probably would object to the death penalty for a drunken driver who kills somebody.

How about a whipping post in the downtown Plaza?

Yeah, I know. We're too civilized.

So the only answer is to abolish the automobile.

The line of abolitionists forms at the right. . . . Hey, I'm the only one in line!

Going to the Auto Show to-night?

Del Mar Offers Wide Choice To Exhibitors

Exhibitors from every county in the Southland is the goal of the Southern California Exposition & County Fair at Del Mar, Mrs. Lorene Bohn, entry supervisor, said today. Exposition dates are June 29 through July 8.

Premium offerings, totaling approximately $112,000 have been approved by the Exposition's board of directors.

Most senior divisions are open to Southland competition, Mrs. Bohn said, Junior Fair entries, however, are restricted to San Diego County.

A 200-page premium book now being prepared will list more than 3600 sections. These will include light horses, graded horses, beef cattle, dairy cattle, swine, sheep, goats, agriculture, horticulture, floriculture, feature exhibits open to chambers of commerce, granges and counties, table settings, preserved foods, clothing and textiles, baked goods and confections, dairy products, bees and honey, gems and minerals, turkeys, ducks, geese, pigeons, poultry, fur and meat rabbits.

The Exposition also will feature a junior and senior national horse show, international photo salon, hobby show and art show in which interested persons can take part.

There's nothing difficult about entering an exhibit, Mrs. Bohn said. One need only request a premium book and entry form. Both are supplied free of charge. The request should include the type of entry to be shown. This enables clerks to send out proper forms. Correspondence should be directed to Entry Dept., Southern California Exposition, Del Mar, Calif.

BLUEBIRDS, CAMPFIRE GIRLS TO WIND UP PEANUT SALE

Blue Birds and Camp Fire Girls in the Point Loma-Ocean Beach area and throughout the county will wind up their annual peanut sale this week-end.

As they go into the final days of the sale, the girls will be making a concentrated effort to wind up their project with record-breaking sales, according to Mrs. Robert Hoover, chairman for this district.

Gaily decorated booths have been set up throughout the business districts to step up the house to house sales.

The 2500 young sales girls want to sell 100,000 cans of peanuts by Sunday night, which will earn for them $19,500. This figure, according to Mrs. Hoover, will provide the necessary means to improve and maintain Camp Wolahi in Cuyamaca Mountains and Camp Loligo in Balboa Park, the girls' two campsites. It will also provide funds to expand the Camp Fire Girls youth program throughout the county.

A theatre party on Feb. 11 is in store for all girls who have participated in the sale. All girls who sell 48 cans will receive a certificate of merit plus a gold star for each six additional cans sold.

The Camp Fire Girls youth program serves 3000 youngsters in this county.

Here's Everything From Red Cod To Octopus & Whales

Once more favored by good fishing weather, deep sea anglers fattened their sacks to the bulging point with banner catches of red cod, groupers, ling, and chilipeppers early this week and even two days of drizzle and bad currents failed to knock them off stride.

Single boats operating from the H. M. and Point Loma Sportfishing Association docks did extremely well, often bringing in daily catches of 300 or more fish. At the same time, individual anglers did even better, an example being the catch of Tommy Davis, San Diego, who accounted for two 20-pound cow cod, a 19-pound ling, and 17 big red cod ranging from six to eight pounds.

However, two anglers stole some of the limelight by making unusual catches. For example, Dorothy McHale, 4244 Orchard, hauled up three big lings at one time and found them completely enfolded within the grip of a big octopus. Viola Davidson, National City, had much the same experience except that she had two lings and a bigger octopus on her hooks. Her larger ling checked in at 16 pounds.

Big whale migration still is in progress and stealing some of the thunder of the fishermen. Daily excursions to view and photograph them at close range leave the municipal sportfishing pier at 12:30, and three trips are scheduled on Saturdays and Sundays—10 a.m., 12:30 p.m., and 3 p.m.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

This Congressional session can be expected to extensively debate rash of bank mergers sweeping the nation.

Drive to stop mergers will be renewed under bipartisan leadership. On GOP side, Sen. Homer Capehart will continue to push for his bill that failed of passage last session. In House, where identical bill was introduced, Rep. Emanuel Celler is spearheading drive.

In 1953 there were 103 bank mergers, in 1954, 118, in 1955, 207 and Federal Reserve Board chairman estimates 240 in 1956.

Today over 50% of nation's banking resources are controlled by 100 banks. In New York City alone, nation's biggest financial center, four banking groups now control over 60% of all commercial banking assets.

Unwholesome essence of situation is perhaps best expressed by Rep. Albert Rains who says, "The independent bank is the key member of the community, not the anonymous agent and disinterested financial institution that gets too big to be personal, or an integral part of community life."

But beyond this expressed fact, many observers of situation express belief monopoly banking promotes inflation.

FHA and VA home loans perhaps need a need, yet there is a great deal of question as to whether home prices would have ever pushed up to present levels if it were not for fact that a few huge banking concerns, plus two or three big insurance firms, find it to their advantage to keep home mortgage volume at high rate regardless of values.

Obviously, government cannot withdraw these programs of mortgage guarantees. Yet serious thought is being given to fact that situation may be somewhat out of hand.

Federal Reserve Board has been trying to regulate matter through adjustment in interest rates, yet against this mild control is fact that 100 banks control over half nation's banking resources, and they thus control huge cash reserves which must be put out to work at interest.

Among Capehart banking bill supporters was Federal Reserve Board, Dept. of Justice, House and Senate Small Business Committees, chairman of the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, National Federation of Independent Business.

Conceivably, unless Congress acts, in due time nation's banking resources could fall under control of 50 or fewer organizations to become even more powerful than U. S. government.

This could become dangerous to American traditions and concepts, for under the stresses and strains of even a temporary economic setback, it is easy to imagine through due legislative processes, the Congress of the United States being forced to nationalize the nation's banking structure.

There is safety in numbers.

Thus, nation's banking structure depends on the existence of a large number of healthy, independent banks. The problem is serious.

Yo-Yo Elimination Contests Set For City Playgrounds This Month

With the championships of California due to be held in San Diego on March 9, Yo-Yo eliminations are under way.

A series of three weekly contests on San Diego playgrounds will qualify nine boy and girl winners in age divisions of 12 and under and 13 through 15 for playground finals the week of February 6. One boy and one girl will be selected from each final for district championships on February 11 or 18.

While city playgrounds are qualifying one boy and one girl from each of five district tournaments to compete in regional finals in Balboa Park on February 21, neighboring San Diego County communities will be holding contests for the same purpose. Regional winners will advance to the State finals. Weekly contest winners receive shields, and the playground champions will be given trophies. A desk pen set awaits the winners of district and community contests with jumbo Yo-Yo's for the runners-up. Those who win regional titles receive trophies and are sent to the state finals, while runners-up are awarded portable radios.

At the state finals boys and girls winners each receive $500, while runners-up are given $250 in cash scholarships. All the other state finalists are given their choice of a racing bike or a television set.

Boys and girls interested in competing in the statewide event need only report to a playground area at the time of one of its weekly contests. Instruction in Yo-Yo will be given during these events by playground directors.

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Undoubtedly many people in the wine industry. But whether one is opposed to alcoholic beverages, or not, plight of California wine industry brings into sharp focus way foreign trade agreements serve to demoralize American industry and agriculture.

Out in California, thousands of farmers have almost a half million acres planted in vineyards. Chief sales outlet for their crops is the wineries of the state.

In past few years California grape growers have been receiving low prices due to low price structure on California wines. These low prices are largely due to competition of foreign wines, mostly French.

France as a nation swims in surplus wine. In fact, one of the recent premiers, Mendes-France, was ousted because he bucked French alcohol monopoly in attempting to encourage production of more milk, less wine.

While France does produce and ship into this country some wines considered of highest quality, France also produces huge quantities of very inferior wines. These surpluses of poor quality French wine now flooding into U. S. are underselling California and other American wines.

These inferior French wines are often packed in attractive containers, given very high sounding names, yet in many cases they are wines that no self-respecting Frenchman would consider drinking.

© National Federation of Independent Business

There is also this further disadvantage. Under U. S. laws, California wines cannot be falsely represented to the slightest degree. No claim can be made not borne out by the facts.

But French laws lay no such restraining hand on French wineries, especially when it is wine being exported to U. S.

It is not known yet just what imports of French wine will total for year just ended. Probably figures will not show gallanage as prodigious.

Yet there has been enough French wine imported cheaply enough to drive down the prices on California wine to the distress of the grape grower.

In addition, American public is not being protected. While it is well known some French wines are world famous for quality, these cheap wines are tied to the coat tails of their reputation.

Thus, to occasional purchaser of wine, fact that some French wines are priced lower than domestic wines appears as a great bargain and also mentally conditions him against paying a reasonable price for domestic products.

As stated at the outset, there are people who would not care if entire domestic wine industry were shut down.

Yet experience of the California wine industry focuses in sharp detail problems encountered by many other American enterprises when government plays fast and loose with the U. S. protective tariff laws. The American textile, pottery, chinaware, apparel, fishing, and many other industries are encountering the same situations as the wine business.

When night is turning to day or day is turning to night, that's the most dangerous time for the driver. The National Automobile Club advises you to drive then with extra care.

Here unflavored gelatine blends two familiar standbys . . . canned luncheon meat or spiced ham and potato salad. The meat and potatoes are chilled in a two-layered ring mold, and the center filled with a tossed green salad. Hot rolls and iced beverages round out a meal.

Retail Sales Hit All-Time High

California sales hit an all-time high during the third quarter of 1955 according to a report released by Robert E. McDavid, vice-chairman of the State Board of Equalization.

Paced by record-breaking automobile sales and near full employment, retail sales, subject to sales and use taxes, rose to $4,631,000,000, more than 21% higher than the corresponding period in 1954, and about 3% greater than the previous record level set in the second quarter of 1955, McDavid said.

"The growth and prosperity in California is clearly indicated by the fact that our residents bought over three-quarters of a billion dollars worth of new cars and over $100,000,000 in used cars during the three month period," McDavid pointed out that this represented a 59% increase in new car sales and 36% in used car sales over the like 1954 period.

San Diego County new car dealers reported the biggest gain in their volume of business and sold $40,000,000 in new cars or an increase of about 55% over the like 1954 three month period. Used car dealers were not far behind with an increase of over 50% as were dealers in trailers, boats, motorcycles, and airplanes, who also realized a 50% gain in business. In total retail sales, San Diego County was up 19%.

The provisional traffic death toll in California for the first 11 months of 1955 was 3,055 or 302 more than that for the first 11 months of 1954, reports the National Automobile Club.

How To Install Wood Wall Panels

Rich, wood-paneled walls are the latest trend in home decoration. They give warmth and luxurious beauty to every room, traditional or modern. Now, anyone who can handle an ordinary hammer can install Savannah Oak panels, easily and quickly, with professional-looking results.

First, measure height and width of your walls to make sure you get the right amount of Savannah Oak paneling. This all-oak paneling now is available in do-it-yourself kit form. Each kit includes specially grooved furring strips, a supply of patented metal application clips, and enough easy-to-handle, 8-foot plywood planks, in random widths, to panel 96 square feet of wall. Here are simple, do-it-yourself steps suggested by Georgia-Pacific Plywood engineers to install your own paneling.

Nail special furring strips horizontally to wall studs.

Insert patented clip in groove of each furring strip.

Lock panels firmly to row of clips placed between each two planks.

Finish your paneling with moldings and trim of matching Savannah Oak.

Here is your finished room with wood paneling you can install yourself. Savannah Oak Panels do not need staining or painting. They are factory prefinished and waxed to protect their beautiful grain pattern.

HEALTH FOR ALL

More and more people throughout the country are getting into the habit of having a chest X-ray at least once a year to find out whether or not there are signs of tuberculosis in their lungs.

A chest X-ray is one of the first steps in searching out this communicable disease. Although early tuberculosis has no apparent symptoms, indications of even early disease will usually show up on the X-ray.

People who realize "one chest X-ray is not enough" keep a year-to-year check on the health of their lungs. For tuberculosis can strike at any time. A favorable report on a chest X-ray now is no guarantee that tuberculosis will not develop in the future.

Tuberculosis is caused by germs called tubercle bacilli which are passed on by those who have an active—a contagious—case of the disease to those who are well. There is no way of knowing just when tuberculosis may attack.

Obviously, one way to avoid tuberculosis is by keeping away from those who have the disease in an active stage. But we cannot always be certain that we are not in contact with TB. For people can look and feel well and still be suffering from tuberculosis, since the disease has no obvious symptoms in an early stage. Hence a person can unknowingly be getting a daily bombardment of tubercle bacilli within his own family circle or from relatives and friends with whom he associates.

That is why doctors and tuberculosis associations urge every adult 15 years of age and over to form the habit of getting a chest X-ray at least once a year. If tuberculosis should develop, a person then has the best chance of having his disease found early, when it is easiest to cure.

Tuberculosis can be cured.

but it is more difficult to cure when it found in an advanced stage.

It is now "the style" to have more babies, bigger families. Younger mothers are having more second, third, fourth and fifth children than before. Farm women more so than city women. Farm women have three children, average; city women lag, with an average of two.

But the younger women, both city and farm, now have more children and plan on more.—The Kiplinger Letter.

A speaker-microphone is put in the classroom and another in the home. They're connected by a private telephone line. The student at home hears everything his teacher and classmates say, and they hear him. As one youngster says: "Before, I just did my lessons at home and that was that. Now something new happens every day." The men and women of Pacific Telephone work to make your telephone more useful every day.

In keeping with the modern trend, the lovely decorators shades of beige, blue, brown, green, grey, ivory, red and yellow in telephone sets, were styled especially for you by Howard Ketcham, one of the outstanding color experts in America today.

Mrs. Queen stresses that telephone service must not only be fast and dependable, but the instrument rendering the service must harmonize and blend with the color scheme of the room in which the telephone is located. She feels that color in telephones is a welcome addition to any home or office.

Mrs. Whitney Heads Phone Co. Office

Mrs. Ava Whitney has been appointed manager of the telephone company downtown business office at 9th and C streets. She is the first woman ever to become manager of an office of this size in San Diego county.

Mrs. Whitney and a staff of service representatives, tellers and cashiers handle daily customer contacts.

Subjects vary, such as moving a telephone to a new address, adding extension telephones, and listings in the directory. They answer questions a customer may have about his bill.

Women in this office may handle a contract with a business firm to its conclusion, or give information on a call to any place in the country. They also follow the customer's request through other departments in the company.

Mrs. Whitney started her telephone career as an operator in San Diego. She worked in the firm's Los Angeles headquarters for several years, and has been a supervisor in the local business office since 1945.

Her husband, Brooks, is a lieutenant in the county sheriff's office.

4 Methodist Women Going To Phoenix

Four delegates from Pt. Loma Methodist Church will represent this district at the Central Methodist Church Conference of Women's Society of Christian Service which is to be held this coming Tuesday and Wednesday, Jan. 31-Feb. 1, in Phoenix.

Leaving by bus Monday, Jan. 30, will be Mrs. Donald Cameron, who is chairman of Spiritual Life for San Diego district; Mrs. Robert Green, president of Woman's Society of Pt. Loma Methodist Church; Mrs. Robert Guyer, vice-president and Mrs. John Paul.

Theme for this year's conference is "Christian Discipleship Today," and included as speakers will be missionaries from India and Western District field workers. The program will also present students from the 1955 Children's Work Team who have returned from Germany and South America.

On the national average, women live 6 years longer than their husbands and are about 3 years younger, making a 9-year difference in the life expectancies of average couples. Thus 13% of women are widows while only 4% of men are widowers. Add this to the fact that men leave their estates, large and small, to their widows and you see why so much of the nation's wealth is in the hands of the women.—The Kiplinger Letter.

Walls Completed Fast

DECORATED walls for a new attic room or other addition to the home can be achieved in short order by applying prefabricated hardboard planks over the simple backing of furring strips on open studs.

For Marlite planks, sufficient support is provided by 1" x 4" furring strips nailed horizontally on 16" centers — a backing that is easier and quicker to fit and install than many other types. The planks are secured with special metal clips that are nailed into the furring and hidden inside tongue-and-groove joints.

When the paneling is applied over a masonry wall or over an old wall that is not solid, it is advisable to use such furring strips as a base.

For a furred base for a companion product, 16"-square tongue-and-groove blocks, on walls, horizontal strips of 1" x 2" stock on 8" centers are recommended.

Because this paneling comes decorated in plain colors and wood grains, no finishing is necessary. With baked plastic finish fused to a Masonite tempered hardboard base, the panels are durable and easily damp-wiped clean.

In Memphis, Tennessee, according to the National Automobile Club, it's against the law to drive while you're asleep.

HOW TO INCREASE CALIFORNIA'S RECOVERABLE OIL RESERVES

We believe every citizen and taxpayer has a personal stake in the Oil and Gas Conservation Initiative

A huge increase in California's recoverable oil reserves will result from an oil conservation measure for which title has been approved by the Attorney General.

Prohibits Waste of a Vital California Resource

This initiative differs sharply from other oil measures brought before the public in the past. It does not permit market demand curtailment and production. It is designed solely to give the oil industry legal tools, to match its know-how, to carry out production practices necessary to enable the industry to be good stewards of California's oil reserves.

Insures continued high employment

It will enable a majority of the operators in a field to bring about practices which will prolong immeasurably the lives of fields in which they are employed, insure continuing employment to those in the industry far beyond present expectations, and provide a strong bulwark for the cornerstone represented by oil production that underlies California's whole economy.

Oil means three billion dollars in pocketbooks of Californians

The public welfare involved in good oil conservation is indicated by the fact that in 1954 the various petroleum products derived from California oil production added about three billion dollars of new wealth to the State.

For two years Richfield has conducted a public information program about oil.

As a public service and in our own self-interest, we have been telling the people of California how tremendous quantities of recoverable oil are being wasted by being left unrecovered in the ground.

Richfield engineers have told meetings of women's groups, community leaders and conservation groups how the physical waste of oil could be prevented, and the size of the public's stake in good oil conservation practices.

These meetings have always ended with strong expressions of support for action that would protect the public interest in this vital natural resource.

Public has demanded this constructive action

It is because of the very favorable public response to the information program that we decided to sponsor an initiative measure for an oil conservation law and bring the matter directly before the people.

Not enough new pools are being discovered in California to keep oil production equal to ever-increasing demand. We are now sending dollars abroad for the purchase of oil—dollars that would otherwise be circulated among our own people in payment for goods and services of all kinds.

Initiative provides only sure way to keep California's oil prosperity

There is one sure way to increase California's reserves of recoverable oil and thus assure California of continued prosperity. That way is unit operation in as many oil pools as possible. California producers need the law to facilitate unitization.

My associate, R. W. Ragland, and I are the sole sponsors of the initiative petition. But discussions which we have had recently with other oil people indicate that a majority of the industry will support the proposal.

We expect the measure to qualify for the general election ballot, November 6, 1956.

Peninsula PERSONALITIES

By AVIS STONE

Every now and then an opportunity presents itself whereby neighbors quietly and inconspicuously assist one another. Such an opportunity was brought this notice this week.

A quiet little lady in her 70's who has long made this area her residence, and whose name must be omitted at her request, began this practice long ago. She has brought joy into the hearts of many and provided for their needs in her own special way.

At present her problem is locating an outgrown high-chair for a young deserving couple who have one child and are awaiting the arrival of another.

Since there can be no other sleeping accommodations made other than both babies sharing the one crib available, a baby buggy would also be appreciated by the young mother, who could bed the expected little one in it as well as having it serve as a perambulator.

Persons wishing to help may do so by phoning AC-2-8824.

Of the nearly 300 whales that have reportedly passed Point Loma since Dec. 6, at least one came close enough to surprise Mrs. Claude Clavert of 4933 Brighton Ave., who was quite unprepared to see the mammal pop its head out of water not 10 feet away from where she stood on the middle jetty.

Guard Roger Grady said that whales occasionally slip into the bay during their migration south to Baja California, and that there had been reports of two grey whales seen swimming around for several hours in the Mission Bay Channel.

Word has been received that Victor B. Elder II, son of Mr. and Mrs. Victor B. Elder, of 5142 West Point Loma Blvd., has been promoted to rank of sergeant while serving with the 3rd Marine Division at Camp McGill, Japan.

Mr. and Mrs. John Leptich have as house guest her sister in law, Mrs. Conrad Berg, in their home at 4519 Niagara Ave. this past week.

It was Mrs. Berg's first trip here and many points of interest were seen before the visitor left by plane for home in Tacoma, Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bullock of 4666 Long Branch Ave., recently said farewell to Mr. and Mrs. Laroy Good who had traveled here from Chelsee, Mass., to spend six months visiting with the Bullocks.

From the East Coast have come Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitegiver and their three youngsters, to take up residence in the 4400 block on Alhambra. Lt. U. S. N. Whitegiver and his family formerly made Pensacola, Florida their home.

Mrs. Harold T. Woods and her husband, who is a patternmaker at Convoir, are completely sold on the area and have purchased their home in the 500 block on Catalina. Gary, their 4-year-old son, is finding out that new playmates can be fun.

WOMEN OF MOOSE

Ocean Beach Women of The Moose, Chapter 1095, is having a roast beef dinner Saturday, Jan. 28 at 6:45 p.m. in the Moose Hall. There will be dancing after the dinner to the music of a popular union orchestra.

The Moosehaven Committee of the Chapter is in charge of this dinner, with Grayce Wilhelm, recorder, acting as chairman. The committee will use part of the proceeds to help equip the kitchen of the old people's home at Moosehaven, Florida.

There will be a donation of $1 for adults, 35c for children under twelve.

Moose members are invited to bring their guests for an evening of dining and dancing.

Jewels, Flowers To Mark Calendar Luncheon Of Point Loma Assembly

"Jewels and Flowers of the Month" will be the theme of the eighth annual Calendar Luncheon to be given by the Point Loma Assembly, Thursday, Feb. 2, at 12 noon at the clubhouse, 3035 Talbot St.

One of the outstanding events of the year, the luncheon will honor the birthdays of the Assembly membership of over 200. Twelve tables, representing the months of the year, will be decorated with the month's jewel and flower. Members will sit at their birthday table.

Mrs. Ralph E. Hall is luncheon chairman. Mrs. Russell J. Kliegel is in charge of reservations. Mmes. Harold C. Smith and Milan A. Early are cashiers. Past president and special guests will be seated with the president, Mrs. Frank Page, Mmes. T. F. Ryan and Hugh Morick are in charge.

The January table, with garlands and carnations setting the theme, will be decorated by Mmes. John Shellabarger and Walter Zable. Mmes. L. L. Carigan and De Witt Griffin will use amethysts and violets on the February table.

Bloodstones and jonquils will govern the choice of decorations for March with Mmes. William Sample, Jr. and C. A. Shasteen in charge. Mmes. Perry W. Bailey and Harold von Briesen have diamonds and sweetpeas to work with for the April table.

Mmes. Walter S. Tatum and C. D. Palmer were born in May, the month of the emerald and lily of the valley. Roses and pearls fall to June and Mmes. Dudley Hosea and E. A. Field. July boasts of rubies and larkspur with Mmes. Walter H. Brewer and R. B. Reis doing the honors.

August's sardonyx and glad-jolus will be arranged by Mmes. John W. Martin and Clair R. Seely. Mmes. E. C. Hurst and J. B. McFadden, Jr. have sapphires and asters for their September table. October with its opals and cosmos will challenge the imagination of Mmes. Thomas D. Marks and Charles Hassell.

Mmes. C. F. Kearney and John B. Kelly will use topaz and chrysanthemums to adorn November's table. Members born in December will sit at the table decorated by Mmes. Frank Levin and Oscar Knauer. Their ornaments will center around the turquoise stone and the narcissus blossom.

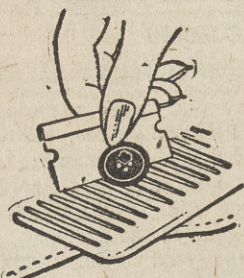

A program of music will be presented by Susanne Stephens and Aloha Lee Edland. Mrs. Carl Ackerman is chairman. Mmes. H. C. Lowey and Dave Cohen are hostesses.

ADULT CLASSES OPEN

Second semester classes start January 30 in the adult high schools of San Diego. Registration in adult classes is always open, but most students find it easier if they start with the rest of the class. Day classes for adults are offered at Midway Adult Center five days a week. Call AC-3-1671 for information or to receive a schedule of classes.

Since World War II, shifting from state to state and place to place has lessened progressively. In the past year only five million people moved from one state to another, 126 million stayed put... same house, same city.—The Kiplinger Letter.
